TOMORROW IS CHRISTMAS. BE JOYOUS AND GENEROUS

Christmas is almost here and it is probably true that no other day in our calendar receives the reverent esteem and happy appreciation of the Christian world as this one. The purest logic, the most fertile legends and the best poetic fancies for centuries past have enriched this occasion with their very best productions; but these at their best form only a small part of the greater contribution which nature had so generously provided and which was given so freely in honor of Him who was destined to be man's best friend and the world's greatest benefactor. The scene in the village of Bethlehem, nineteen centuries ago, is in some respects at least unique and peculiarly characteristic of no other in the world. The night came in its usual way, tired people went to rest, doors were closed and homes darkened, and all is quiet, and nothing beyond the ordinary had been expected. But in the supreme stillness of the night a star of miraculous brilliancy shone above the village and its splendor became intensely vivid to the shepherds who were watching their flocks. The wise men in the East beheld the strange phenomenon and no doubt made research to account for it, and added to this was an invisible choir which sang softly an anthem never before heard by mortal man. It was certainly an anthem of Peace and Good Will from God to man, but it did not awaken the little village over which the scene was enacted. Thus it was that a brilliant star, wise men, busy shepherds and angelic singers acted in the great drama of nature in honor of the world's first and greatest Christmas gift from its Creator. This gift was Christ. His life, peace and love were to permeate and reconstruct our nature, purposes, plans and ideals both here and hereafter. The extent of this gift is to all mankind. No one need not fear but that he can share in this great benign blessing equally with his fellow man. Because of it our nation is stronger, our homes are happier and we are made better. Whatever gift we might give to another it can be no more than the echo of what we have received and whatever blessing we might bestow will be only the shadow of the greater one given to us. Thus as we commemorate the supposed day of Christ's advent into the world it will not be selfish for us to appreciate him as a personal gift but it will make us more liberal and cordial to others. As we rejoice let us help others to rejoice and as we are happy let us make others, who have been less so, unexpectedly happy by sharing with them the temporal blessings which have come to us.

NEWS FOLKS OFF CHRISTMAS

According to custom the Evening News will not issue Christmas day. It has been trying to make up for the lack of a paper on Christmas day by publishing better than the average issues during the past week. A majority of the News folks will spend their Christmas quietly at home; some will visit the loved ones away, chief Linotype operator, John Thrasher, who by the way, is now an Ada Pioneer, as is his unvarying custom goes to Sherman to be with the old folks at home. "Senator" the foreman and "Pat" the close second, the Brydia brothers, will go to Okmulgee, where they will devour a great Illinois Christmas dinner with their father and mother. Hamilton Nation, city editor, and bride, will go to Konawa, where his wife's parents, the Arnolds, reside and where Hamilton was formerly editor of the Konawa Chief-Leader.

Mr. Carthal Tanner, night linotype operator, who is having more than his share of Christmas, since he got his finer mangled in the linotype, will probably utilize a deal of his time making Frisco trains to and from this city and Francis. Carthal states that he is trying to remove the Francis shops and tracks to Ada. Certain tracks at Francis are very attractive to him.

The News' newsboys, Bryan Wilson, Chism Barnett, Guy Fuller and Ulysses Grant Winn, self made boy capitalists of the city will take the full measure of the young American's Christmas.

Miss Laura Whipple, the angel of the press and bindery rooms, will go to Center where resides her good farmer father.

Mr. J. M. Watkins, business manager and Miss Mollie Jernigan, office manager of the News, will remain in the city throughout Xmas, but it is suspected that during the time their thoughts will often times revert to the dear old homes in the East; Mr. Watkins, in old Arkansas, and Cousin Mollie's in Old Kentucky.

The entire News bunch wishes for all the happiest possible Christmas.

WILL RETURN TO ADA.

Friends of E. J. Jones, formerly a resident of Ada, have received a message that he and his family would be here in a few days to reside permanently. They moved several months ago to Quitman, Tex., but are homesick for Ada.

Judge Rainey Signs Bonds.

Judge Rainey heard the case involving the issuance of funding bonds by the county Tuesday, and signed the bonds to the amount of about $18,000. This will take up all the outstanding warrants and place the county on a cash basis once more. The issue was made necessary partly because the state board cut the valuation of the county something more than $1,000,000 last year, and partly because the Katy refused to pay half of its taxes and the O. A Tribute to Roff.

To the people of Roff and Surrounding Country:

I have traveled over the entire state of Oklahoma in the enforcement of law and I wish to say that I have not found a cleaner town in any part of the state than your own town of Roff. No doubt the law and particularly the prohibition law is violated in some instances, as it is in almost every part of the state, but I find less to indicate violation in Roff than in any other town of the same size I have visited in the past year. After meeting Deputy Sheriff Oscar Collins and talking with the citizens, I find that a great deal of the credit for the cleanliness of the city is due to his earnest efforts to make the town law-abiding. With the same kind of officials all over the state, Oklahoma would have nothing to complain of in this respect, and would rank far above some of the older states in regard to law enforcement.—Henry W. Leeman, State Enforcement Officer.—Roff Eagle.

Hogs Taken Up.

It became necessary to take up 12 or 15 heads of hogs Thursday which were trespassing in the Rosedale cemetery and the entire herd were placed in the lots of Mr. Will McDaniel, East of the cemetery. The owner may recover these hogs by the payment to Mr. McDaniel the cost of feeding and this advertisement.

Merry Christmas.

And a Happy New Year.

No, this isn't Christmas weather,
but we had the snow a week ago.

The United Charities Association of Ada has made it possible for the needy to enjoy Christmas.

It's hard to believe that Dr. Cook purposely faked the public, but nevertheless he has an undesirable
Christmas present.

CHRISTMAS.

Tomorrow, the world's one great holiday is soon to be observed. All indications point to the enjoying of Christmas this year as probably it has never been enjoyed before.

In Ada there has been a rush for Christmas goods and the buyers have bought more expensively than heretofore, bent on enjoying the day to the utmost as "It is better to give than to receive."

For several days people have been hurrying home to their loved ones and what a great time there is in store for them.

Chilcutt-Cope.

Wednesday afternoon in this city
Mr. Layton Chilcutt and Miss Pearl
Cope, both of Fitzhugh, were married by Rev. A. B. Hunkapillar. These young people are among Fitzhugh's most popular young people and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mr. Chilcutt is a prominent business man of that little city and is liked by everyone. The bride is the daughter of A. W. Cope, a prominent farmer and stockman of the same place.

The happy couple boarded the northbound train the same day for a honeymoon trip through Colorado.

MANY WANT BERTHS ON WATER WAGON RESERVED

"WATER WAGON EDITOR" GETS COVERED UP WITH MAIL.

Most Applicants Are Old Timers Who Want Another Chance on the Special.

When the "Water Wagon Editor"
opened his mail this morning he found letters "kill and cripple." Some inquirers wanted to know more regarding the routes, one wanted to know who the driver is and most all wanted more information. Below we give a few of the letters received
from those desiring a water-wagon
berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Dear: I understand your water wagon does all hunkadory. I am forty-five years old and have been on many a water
wagon, just like yours, I reckon. I remember the last one I buckled on-
to, two years ago it was, and I made
such a failure that I made no effort to ride the last one, but I think
its about time I was climbing on the old thing again. I don't know much about the route as I have never
been able to travel much along it,
but when your special starts you
will find yours truly right up beside
your driver if he has to knock some
other drunkard down.

Water Wagon Editor, Dearie: I
notice in last evening's paper about
your proposed year's travel on the Water Wagon Special and here goes
for another whirl at the business. I tried the wagon last year and I am going to tell you about it and I think you will decide that: I have a pretty good show to stay on, if I get a front seat. Last year I pulled off a drunk and didn't get so I could
travel until the wagon was pulling
out. I ran after it and managed to grab the rail and get on foot on the
foot-board and we hadn't been gone
longer than a week until off I went.
You see I didn't have a good hold
on her. So I think that if I get a seat on your Wagon I can stay on till the cows come home and I want you to reserve me a berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Sweetheart:
I am going on that Water Wagon
Special December 31 and am going to stay on or "bust." Three years ago
I got on a wagon and swore by
all that was good and bad that I would make the trip but after we
had been gone a week we hit awful
back track and for two weeks we
were riding on the ties most of the time. After about a month one of the boys on the wagon with me and I ran across a fellow that wasn't on
the wagon and this fellow invited
us to go home with him. We went
and he brought some bottles in the room and right there that blamed
wagon struck a broken rail and off
I went. My friend fell off too and

I don't know whether he got back
on that wagon or not, but I know
I didn't. Save me a berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Dear El: A
year ago I got on the water wagon
and my wife said she knew I would not stay on longer than a week but
I fooled her—I staid on two weeks.
After I had been aboard for a week,
one night I came home from lodge
and she says, "What did I tell you?
I knew you'd fall off." And in a month I did slide off but I wont any more, but say, cut out that tobacco clause, won't you? Save me a ticket.

Water Wagon Editor,
Care Evening News.
Dear Sir:

I note with much interest your proposed 1910 "water wagon" brigade,
and will say I am glad your generous "water wagon" editor is making an earnest appeal to all who are desirous of co-operating in the noble
work. I dare say there are many in this locality who should join at once,
even tho' an initiation fee of six bits
was asked; and as your article states
"tis free, free for everybody, I can see no excuse for any sound-minded
man passing it up. I have found that too many men who pass these opportunities "up" sooner or later find themselves with pick and shovel and
on "the section" bunking with other hobos who have fallen from grace
and wearing summer clothes during frigid weather. Just why a man will
"seal up" bootleg booze, and nule
and all other dope calculated to destroy his manhood and other "isms"
is beyond my comprehension and I
would advise all good fellows to join
you on this aforesaid wagon I am
seriously of the opinion if every man
in Pontotoc county who should were
to join the "gang" it would take all the steel in Pittsburg and half of the lumber in Washington to build this wagon. As for myself, I want to make application right now for a lower berth with good hand holds and if it is not too much trouble, and he expense can be spared, a double row of very heavy straps which lock on and can be attached to my berth. I have some very NEAR and DEAR friends at Bebee, Allen and Roff that I would like to be informed as to this 1910 wagon, to say nothing of some of my associates here
in Ada that need the cure badly.

Wishing you much success in your
undertaking, I am,

Fraternally,

HI KI,

P. S.—I would be glad to have the tobacco clause omitted, as I can hardly see how I can dispense with
my "Star" who is my friend.

LITTLE TIM SULLIVAN OF BOWERY FAME DEAD

Power of Metropolitan Politics Passes
Away After Six Months' Illness.

New York, Dec. 24.—Timothy P.
Sullivan, the "Little Tim" of the Bowery and a power in metropolitan politics is dead. He had been in ill
health for more than six months.
Death resulted from Bright's disease
and inflammation of the heart.

Just when "Little Tim" was born,
history does not record, but he died
in early middle life, worn out, say
his friends, by overwork. At the time of his death he was chairman
of the finance committee of the board
of aldermen.

Always active in politics, he had
at one time or another been a member of the state legislature, and acting mayor of the city. "Big Tim," Timothy D. Sullivan, the state senator,
is now the only one of the famous Sullivans left.

"Little Tim," when he first started
to work, a mere boy, ran copy for
the newspaper men from the Tombs
police court to their offices. Later
he went into partnership with "Big Tim" in a saloon.

Both had the genius for politics
and also shrewd business heads. Both
made money and yet kept their following of less prosperous days. Intimates say that Little Tim was the brains of the clan Sullivan, and that he financed many of his better known
cousin's successful ventures.

Little Tim's funeral will be held Friday morning and the pall bearers
will include politicians great and
small from the greater city.

Little Tim never drank intoxicants nor smoked. His refraining
from liquor, he explained tersely,
with the declaration that "a boozier
can never succeed." At a dinner in his honor last year at the Hotel
Knickerbocker, for which his admirers subscribed $100 a plate, he refused to break his rule of temperance.

In the board of aldermen representing Tarrytown power, Mr. Sullivan commanded respect and everybody listened when he took the floor.

Not long ago Little Tim returned
from Hot Springs, Va., where he went with the hope of regaining his health. But although he had picked up some strength his condition remained serious and for several weeks
past his death had been almost daily expected. To his widow will go a considerable fortune. Like the other Sullivans, "Little Tim" was counted
a rich man. He had extensive contracting interests and was interested
in a multitude of enterprises in the greater city.

Mrs. I. J. Patterson and son, Hinton, came down from Beggs last
night to spend Xmas with her mother, Mrs. T. J. Worthington. Mr. Patterson will join them here this evening.

A Man Ada Children Will Miss This Christmas

Tomorrow, Christmas, brings to the mind an individual-character, we might say—who has been a citizen of Ada for several years, and who, on this day of other years, has made the hearts of many children of the city glad.

This man is J. W. Boling a man everybody knows. In years past during his residence in Ada on Christmas morn all those children who were not in that position to receive dolls, wagons, etc., from Santa Claus were, before the day was ended, giving thanks to J. W. Boling. This man had the Christmas spirit from a heart which demanded that he make other hearts happy, regardless of his own.

Born of well-to-do and influential parents in the state of Kentucky Mr. Boling desired not to remain at home where he had every advantage necessary—with his own intellect—to become a man of fame and one well supplied with the world's goods, but choose to take up his future somewhere else, with the result that he located some few years ago in Ada.

Although receiving a monthly stipend which is considerably in excess of the average salary received in this city, this fellow chooses an environment which would not appeal to one in a hundred of persons who had the allowance of this unique character.

A fine workman in his line, he prefers to keep a combination work shop-home in a tent on East Main street where, when physically able, he repairs guns, bicycles and such like.

This year on account of his physical disability there will be many youngsters who will note the absence of this benefactor and every citizen in the city will miss his presence on the streets or in his tent where he was his own housekeeper and where a welcome was always extended.

And all of these people will offer J. W. Boling their sympathy on Christmas day, 1909.

Chas. Chauncey leaves today for Oklahoma City to be gone several days.

If you get a Stacy Adams or Howard Foste shoe you have the best made. See S. E. Chapman.

Prof. T. F. Pierce and family went to Roff today where they will take Christmas dinner with Mrs. Pierce's parents.

Stacy Adams and Howard Foste Shoes are the best made. For sale by S. E. Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher, their daughter, Miss Eligh Fisher, and Miss Orr of South McAlester, left today for Davis, for a few days stay.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Grigsby are expected to arrive tonight from Italy, Texas, for a Christmas visit with Mrs. Grigsby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ingram.

A Prize Christmas Egg Eating Story.

The article appearing elsewhere in today's Evening News telling about a Missourian eating forty eggs at one meal suggested to Mr. Watkins, business manager of the Evening News, the time when he witnessed a negro devour seventy-two eggs at one sitting.

This occurred several years ago at Watkin's old home back in Arkansas, at Batesville. The b. m. related it about as follows:

"One night near Christmas while I and several other loafers were hanging out at the largest store of the town a negro, an old timer of that section known as 'Mitch' dragged his raw-boned frame into the store. There was a tub of eggs in the store and one of the boys asked Mitch how many of them he could eat and Mitch replied, 'Why, boss, I kin eat all you can buy fo' me.' The audience then told the negro if he would eat a dozen they would buy a dozen for him to take home, and for every other dozen he ate they would present him with a dozen for home consumption.

"Mitch went after the hen fruit and before he quit had consumed six dozens. He got his gift—Christmas gift, we infer—and went home. The boys became uneasy about the egg-eater and about eleven o'clock went to see about him, and found him sitting by the fire—smoking his pipe. Later, the negro told the boys he went to bed about midnight, but was unable to sleep so he arose at four o'clock and chopped wood until six. Barring that, there were no ill effects from Mitch's meal of six dozen eggs."

FIRE IN MINE DEFIES HELP

Illinois Again the Scene of Mine Tragedy—Lamps Carried by Engineer and Assistants the Cause.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—Eight men were killed and the lives of 400 others imperiled by an explosion of gas in Mine A of the Chicago and Cartersville Coal company at Herrin, Ill., late today.

Lamps carried by the mine engineer and his assistants caused the disaster, according to a long distance telephone message from the mine officers to the Associated Press in this city. There were three men and a boy in the engineer's party, and all lost their lives.

Prompt action by the management of the miners effected the safe exit of the hundreds of men who were at work below ground. Within five minutes of the first report of the explosion the miners in the immediate vicinity of the accident were started toward the surface and on the return trips of the cages rescuers were lowered into entries Nos. 7 and 8 west, where the catastrophe took place.

The dead:

W. T. Pierce, mine engineer.
Engene Bardett, assistant engineer.
Thomas Williams, assistant manager.

Unidentified boy about 16.
George Snyder, miner.
Salvatore Greco, miner.
Pietro Romeo, laborer.
Thomas Harber, miner.

James Guinney, superintendent of the mine, and Robert Hueston, manager, headed the first relay of rescuers. Despite the black damp which flowed into the chambers adjoining those in which Pierce and his party were killed, these men plunged into the workings.

Three bodies blocked their path. Hasty examination showed that the men were alive and they were rushed to the surface. One of them was A. J. Hueston, a brother of the manager. All are expected to recover.

The valiant efforts of the rescuers to penetrate more deeply into the workings were repulsed by increasing banks of after damp. The ventilating apparatus of the mine had not been damaged, but it could not cope with the gases and Guinney and Hueston and their helpers were forced to retreat, leaving the bodies of Pierce and his companions.

Fire also began to gain headway, and it is not expected that the bodies can be recovered before tomorrow. Tonight all efforts are being directed toward fighting the flames. Conditions are such that it is hoped they will be confined to the two entrances affected by the explosion.

News of the disaster spread through Herrin and there was a rush to the shaft house by hysterical women and crying children.

TOMORROW IS CHRISTMAS. BE JOYOUS AND GENEROUS

Christmas is almost here and it is probably true that no other day in our calendar receives the reverent esteem and happy appreciation of the Christian world as this one. The purest logic, the most fertile legends and the best poetic fancies for centuries past have enriched this occasion with their very best productions; but these at their best form only a small part of the greater contribution which nature had so generously provided and which was given so freely in honor of Him who was destined to be man's best friend and the world's greatest benefactor. The scene in the village of Bethlehem, nineteen centuries ago, is in some respects at least unique and peculiarly characteristic of no other in the world. The night came in its usual way, tired people went to rest, doors were closed and homes darkened, and all is quiet, and nothing beyond the ordinary had been expected. But in the supreme stillness of the night a star of miraculous brilliancy shone above the village and its splendor became intensely vivid to the shepherds who were watching their flocks. The wise men in the East beheld the strange phenomenon and no doubt made research to account for it, and added to this was an invisible choir which sang softly an anthem never before heard by mortal man. It was certainly an anthem of Peace and Good Will from God to man, but it did not awaken the little village over which the scene was enacted. This it was that a brilliant star, wise men, busy shepherds and angels, the singers acted in the great drama of nature in honor of the world's best and greatest Christmas gift from its Creator. This gift was Christ. His life, peace and love were to permeate and reconstruct our nature, purposes, plans and ideals both here and hereafter. The extent of this gift to all mankind, No one need not fear but that he can share in this great benign blessing equally with his fellow man. Because of it our nation is stronger, our homes are happier and we are made better. Whatever gift we might give to another it can be no more than the echo of what we have received and whatever blessing we might bestow will be only the shadow of the greater one given to us. Thus as we commemorate the supposed day of Christ's advent into the world it will not be selfish for us to appreciate him as a personal gift but it will make us more liberal and cordial to others. As we rejoice let us help others to rejoice and as we are happy let us make others, who have been less fortunate, unexpectedly happy by sharing with them the temporal blessings which have come to us.

According to custom the Evening News will not issue Christmas day. It has been trying to make up for the lack of a paper on Christmas day by publishing better than the average issues during the past week. A majority of the News folks will spend their Christmas quietly at home; some will visit the loved ones away, chief Linotype operator, John Thrasher, who by the way, is now an Ada Pioneer, as is his unvarying custom goes to Sherman to be with the old folks at home. "Senator" the foreman and "Pat" the close second, the Brydia brothers, will go to Okmulgee, where they will devour a great Illinois Christmas dinner with their father and mother. Hamilton Nation, city editor, and bride, will go to Konawa, where his wife's parents, the Arnolds, reside and where Hamilton was formerly editor of the Konawa Chief-Leader.

Mr. Carthal Tanner, night linotype operator, who is having more than his share of Christmas, since he got his finger mangled in the linotype, will probably utilize a deal of his time making Frisco trains to and from this city and Francis, Carthal states that he is trying to remove the Francis shops and tracks to Ada. Certain tracks at Francis are very attractive to him.

The News' newsboys, Bryan Wilson, Ohlem Barnett, Guy Fuller and Ulysses Grant Winn, self made boy capitalists of the city will take the full measure of the young American's Christmas.

Miss Laura Whipple, the angel of the press and bindery rooms, will go to Center where resides her good farmer father.

Mr. J. M. Watkins, business manager and Miss Mollie Jernigan, office manager of the News, will remain in the city throughout Xmas, but it is suspected that during the time their thoughts will often times revert to the dear old homes in the East; Mr. Watkins, in old Arkansas, and Cousin Mollie's in Old Kentucky.

The entire News bunch wishes for all the happiest possible Christmas.

WILL RETURN TO ADA.

Friends of E. J. Jones, formerly a resident of Ada, have received a message that he and his family would be here in a few days to reside permanently. They moved several months ago to Quitman, Tex., but are homesick for Ada.

Judge Rainey Signs Bonds.

Judge Rainey heard the case involving the issuance of funding bonds by the county Tuesday, and signed the bonds to the amount of about $18,000. This will take up all the outstanding warrants and place the county on a cash basis once more. The issue was made necessary partly because the state board cut the valuation of the county something more than $1,000,000 last year, and partly because the Katy refused to pay half of its taxes and the O. C. falling to pay any of its tax. As the present commissioners have always been as economical as it was possible to be under the circumstances, it is not likely that such a contingency will arise again. A Tribute to Roff.

To the people of Roff and Surrounding Country:

I have traveled over the entire state of Oklahoma in the enforcement of law and I wish to say that I have not found a cleaner town in any part of the state than your own town of Roff. No doubt the law and particularly the prohibition law is violated in some instances, as it is in almost every part of the state, but I find less to indicate violation in Roff than in any other town of the same size I have visited in the past year. After meeting Deputy Sheriff Oscar Collins and talking with the citizens, I find that a great deal of the credit for the cleanliness of the city is due to his earnest efforts to make the town law-abiding. With the same kind of officials all over the state, Oklahoma would have nothing to complain of in this respect, and would rank far above some of the older states in regard to law enforcement.—Henry W. Leeman, State Enforcement Officer.—Roff Eagle.

Hogs Taken Up.

It became necessary to take up 12 or 15 heads of hogs Thursday which were trespassing in the Rosedale cemetery and the entire herd were placed in the lots of Mr. Will McDaniel, East of the cemetery. MANY WANT BERTHS ON WATER WAGON RESERVED

"WATER WAGON EDITOR" GETS COVERED UP WITH MAIL.

Want Another Chance on the Special.

When the "Water Wagon Editor"
opened his mail this morning he
found letters "kill and cripple." Some inquirers wanted to know more regarding the routes, one wanted to know who the driver is and most all
wanted more information. Below we
give a few of the letters received
from those desiring a water-wagon
berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Dear: I understand your water wagon does
all handiwork. I am forty-five years
old and have been on many a water
wagon, just like yours, I reckon. I remember the last one I buckled on-
to, two years ago it was, and I made
such a failure that I made no effort to ride the last one, but I think
its about time I was climbing on the
old thing again. I don't know much
about the route as I have never
been able to travel much along it,
but when your special starts you
will find yours truly right up beside
your driver if he has to knock some
other drunkard down.

Water Wagon Editor, Dearie: I
notice in last evening's paper about
your proposed year's travel on the Water Wagon Special and here goes
for another whirl at the business. I
tried the wagon last year and I am
going to tell you about it and I
think you will decide that I have a
pretty good show to stay on, if I get
a front seat. Last year I pulled off a
drunk and didn't get so "I could
travel until the wagon was pulling
out. I ran after it and managed to grab the rail and get on foot on the
foot-board and we hadn't been gone
longer than a week until off I went.
You see I didn't have a good hold
on her. So I think that if I get a seat on your Wagon I can stay on all the cows come home and I want
you to reserve me a berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Sweetheart:
I am going on that Water Wagon
Special December 31 and am going
to stay on or "bust." Three years ago
I got on a wagon and swore by
all that was good and bad that I
would make the trip but after we
had been gone a week we hit awful
back track and for two weeks we
were riding on the ties most of the time. After about a month one of the boys on the wagon with me and I ran across a fellow that wasn't on
the wagon and this fellow invited
us to go home with him. We went
and he brought some bottles in the
room and right there that blamed
wagon struck a broken rail and on
I went. My friend fell off too and

I don't know whether he got back
on that wagon or not, but I know
I didn't. Save me a berth.

Water Wagon Editor, Dear Ed: A
year ago I got on the water wagon,
and my wife said she knew I would
not stay on longer than a week but
I fooled her—I staid on two weeks.
After I had been aboard for a week,
one night I came home from lodge
and she says, "What did I tell you?
I knew you'd fall off." And in a month I did slide off but I want any
more, but say, cut out that tobacco
clause, won't you? Save me a ticket.

Water Wagon Editor,
Care Evening News.
Dear Sir:

I note with much interest your proposed 1910 "water wagon" brigade,
and will say I am glad your generous "water wagon" editor is making an
earnest appeal to all who are desirous of co-operating in the noble
work. I dare say there are many in
this locality who should join at once,
even tho' an initiation fee of six bits
was asked; and as your article states
"is free, free for everybody," I can
see no excuse for any sound-minded
man passing it up. I have found that
too many men, who pass these opportunities "up" sooner or later find
themselves with pick and shovel and
on "the section" banking with other babes who have fallen from grace
and wearing summer clothes during
frigid weather. Just why a man will
"seal up" bootleg noose, and rule
and all other dope calculated to destroy his manhood and other "isms"
is beyond my comprehension and I
would advise all good fellows to join
you on this aforesaid wagon. I am
seriously of the opinion if every man
in Pontiac county who would were
to join the "gang" it would take all
the steel in Pittsburgh and half of the lumber in Washington to build
this wagon. As for myself, I want to
make application right now for a lower berth with good hand holds and
if it is not too much trouble, and
his expense can be spared, a double
row of very heavy straps which
lock on and can be attached to my
berth. I have some very NEAR and DEAR friends at Bebe, Allen and Roff that I would like to be informed as to this 1910 wagon, to say
nothing of some of my associates here
in Ada that need the cure badly.

Wishing you much success in your
undertaking, I am,

Fraternally,
HI KI,

P. S.—I would be glad to have the bacco clause omitted, as I can hardly see how I can dispense with
my "Star" who is my friend.

LITTLE TIM SULLIVAN OF BOWERY FAME DEAD

Power of Metropolitan Politics Passes
Away After Six Months' Illness.

New York, Dec. 24.—Timothy P.
Sullivan, the "Little Tim" of the Bowery and a power in metropolitan
politics is dead. He had been in ill
health for more than six months.
Death resulted from Bright's disease
and inflammation of the heart.

Just when "Little Tim" was born,
history does not record, but he died
in early middle life, worn out, say
his friends, by overwork. At the time of his death he was chairman
of the finance committee of the board
of aldermen.

Always active in politics, he had
at one time or another been a member of the state legislature, and acting
mayor of the city. "Big Tim," Tim-
othy D. Sullivan, the state senator,
is now the only one of the famous
Sullivans left.

"Little Tim," when he first started
to work, a mere boy, ran copy for
the newspaper men from the Tombs
police court to their offices. Later
he went into partnership with "Big Tim" in a saloon.

Both had the genius for politics
and also shrewd business heads. Both
made money and yet kept their following of less prosperous days. In timates say that Little Tim was the
brains of the clan Sullivan, and that
he financed many of his better known
cousin's successful ventures.

Little Tim's funeral will be held
Friday morning and the pall bearers
will include politicians great and
small from the greater city.

Little Tim never drank intoxi-
cants nor smoked. His refraining
from liquor, he explained tersely,
with the declaration that "a boozier
can never succeed." At a dinner in
his honor last year at the Hotel
Knickerbocker, for which his admir-
ers subscribed $100 a plate, he refused to break his rule of temperance.

In the board of aldermen representing Tammany power, Mr. Sullivan
commanded respect and everybody listened when he took the floor.
Not long ago Little Tim returned
from Hot Springs, Va., where he
went with the hope of regaining his
health. But although he had picked
up some strength his condition remained serious and for several weeks
past his death had been almost daily
expected. To his widow will go a considerable fortune. Like the other
Sullivans, "Little Tim" was counted
a rich man. He had extensive contracting interests and was interested
in a multitude of enterprises in the
greater city.

Mrs. I. J. Patterson and son, Hin-
ton, came down from Beggs last
night to spend Xmas with her mother, Mrs. T. J. Worthington. Mr. Patterson will join them here this evening.

PROBABLY THE BEST YEAR IN HISTORY OF CITY.

Truck Loads of Valuable Presents
Destined to All Parts of the Country.

The local express agents probably have not been rushed so rushing during any holiday season as the one which is ending. More than a week ago trucks loaded with presents destined to all parts of the United States bearing the label, "Do not open until Christmas" could be seen at the various railway stations awaiting the arrivals of the trains.

When the train arrived back rolled the heavy truck laden with its Christmas joys and the expressman with his assistants began the task of loading it into the car. A peep inside the express car showed that everywhere there were presents loaded, both ends of the car being jammed and crammed with packages, this in spite of the fact that many extra cars are furnished for this rush season.

At another express car you will observe the unloading of packages—gifts sent from various portions of the country to relatives and friends in Ada. For days there has been no let up in the order of things and when the express employees make their monthly reports its highly probable that they will show more revenue derived during the present holidays than any previous one in the history of Ada.

NEW YORK FARE CRITICISED.

Things About City Restaurants That Foreigners Don't Like.

"There is one thing I abominate over here," said a man who passes much of his time in Europe. "It is cold storage. What does the average New Yorker know about fresh food?" "People never get to know the taste of a chicken and as for some of the fowl that I see hanging in butchers' windows—well, they have lost all resemblance to chickens such as I have known them in Europe. They are tough, they are tasteless. In Paris, in fact, in almost any city in Europe you can get fresh, tender, delicious chicken every day in the year."

You can get a better meal in Paris than you can in New York anywhere. Of course one finds a wider variety of food to select from over here but it is by no means so well prepared or served as over there. Though cooking and serving have vastly improved in New York in the last few years.

One thing that strikes the foreigner is the scarcity of moderate priced restaurants where a really good meal can be obtained. I have tried all kinds over here and the result has been to make me confine my eating to the higher priced places. The New York table d'hôte is frequently an abomination.

"In Paris you are almost certain to find palatable food in any restaurant you enter no matter how mean it looks from the outside. Of course one does not have to frequent the places in which the cab drivers eat but there are innumerable restaurants in Paris where you can get an excellent dinner for 50 cents, wine included."

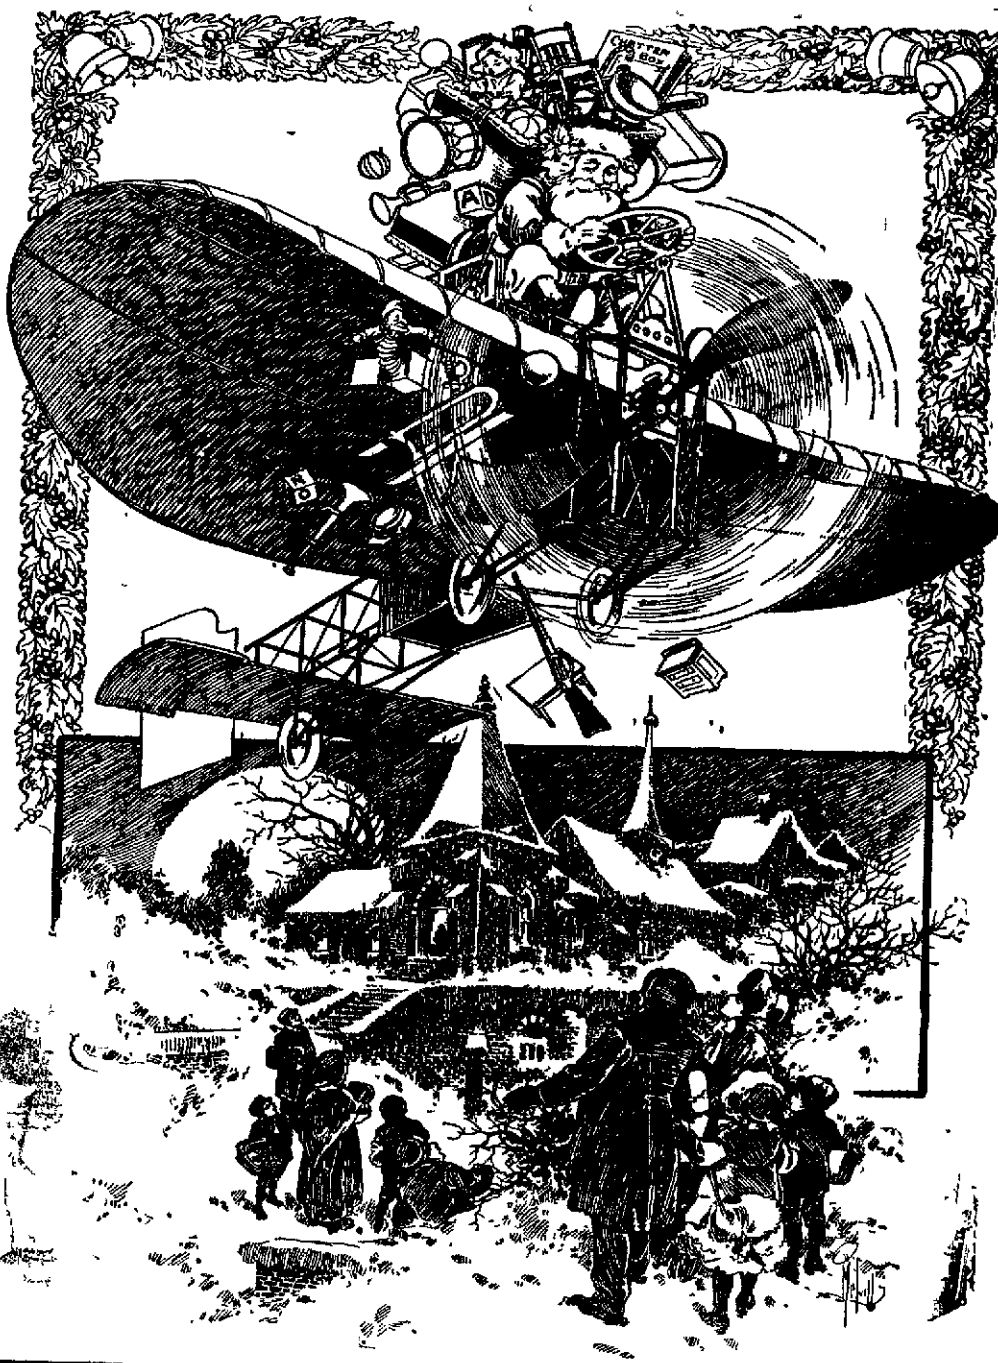

"I tried the other night one of those 75-cent tables d'hôte. They gave three oysters to start with one of which was bad. Then I had some soup, which was passable. Then came the fish, of which I took just one mouthful. Next came braised beef with spaghetti, the former tasting as if it had been cooked three or four times all the flavor gone and the latter almost raw."

"But the chicken. It was a nightmare. I got a piece which from the shape of the bone must have been the breast. There was just half a mouthful of meat, and it was so tough I had to give up any attempt to chew it. The salad with it consisted of two tough lettuce leaves on which a little vinegar had been sprinkled. I could not find a trace of oil."

"And yet New Yorkers imagine they know what a good meal is. This restaurant, I may add, was crowded. But our restaurants in Paris are all small. We have nothing like Sherry's or the big dining room of the Waldorf and the Plaza. The tables are placed together so close that you frequently get interested in the conversation of the party at the next table. But when it comes to service—well, we have the real thing there."

Remember $60.00 watch and $15.00 cut glass water set to be given away at Tipton's. Ticket with each 50c purchase.

THE SANTA CLAUS OF THE FUTURE

RAILWAY STATIONS GOOD PLACES TO WATCH CROWDS

THEY ARE BUSY POINTS DURING CHRISTMAS WEEK.

Many People From the Country, Not Knowing Time of Trains' Arrivals, Come Early

If you have been an attendant at the depots the past two weeks you have seen probably the greatest rush of humanity for tickets baggage etc. that you have ever had the pleasure of noting in the nine years of Ada's existence.

Take the Frisco for instance and that road No. 509, the Meteor which is due in Ada from St. Louis at 9:23 a. m. You can stroll down to the depot almost any morning at about eight o'clock and see passengers already congregated. These passengers live in the country and in many cases do not know the time of the train's arrival while others purposely come early to see the town before leaving, and for other reasons.

An hour and a half ahead of the schedule time of a train's arrival is too early for the telegrapher to get an accurate figure on the train's progress, unless it be on time at that hour, in which case the train will be marked up on the bulletin board, which the state requires all railroads to provide as "on time." Later, should the train be behind its regular time—as the Frisco usually is—the board will show the number of minutes—or hours—or days—the passenger hauler is late. Then a great crowd of people will gather near the board to see when the train will arrive. Some do not know anything about it after they have read it, but there are always some who are willing to tell them.

When the train arrives there is a great struggle to "get on first." Some—usually those who can not read the bulletin board—try to get on the south bound train when they have a ticket which says they must go north. In this instance the brakeman has to shove them back and make room for the passengers who are ticketed south.

Then there are the baggage trucks rolling through the yards, loaded with everything on which a handmay be put. These are busy times all right in come but once a year—a Christmas rush does.

JUDGE FURMAN AT END

Delivers His Celebrated Lecture in That City.

Hon. Henry Furman of the Oklahoma court of criminal appeals, is here on a visit participating in the dedicatory services of the new Baptist church which he says is a great credit to Ada. He was toastmaster at the banquet there last night. He was much impressed with the remarks of Judge Garber who was the principal speaker of the occasion. Tonight Judge Furman will deliver his celebrated lecture on the "Immortality of the Soul from a Lawyer's Standpoint." While traveling some years ago he heard a discussion between a Baptist minister and a materialist which ended in the former withdrawing when his opponent grew irreverent in his remarks. Judge Furman then took up the subject with the materialist and produced some arguments that he made a decided impression on his audience. Some time afterward he was invited to deliver a lecture on the subject covering the same ground as in his talk on the railroad train. He responded and has since been invited frequently to repeat it. His visit here is something of a relief from the tedious work of his difficult position. There have been 490 new cases filed in the court over which he presides, in addition to those which had accumulated when the tribunal was instituted. The court has since been crowded with work.—Wave-Democrat.

STEEL STOCK TO EMPLOYEES.

Workmen May Buy Preferred Shares
and Will Secure Bonus.

New York Dec. 21.—The finance committee of the United States Steel corporation has voted to offer the employees of the corporation the opportunity of subscribing to its preferred stock at $125 a share. In addition a bonus of $1,000,000 in common and preferred will shortly be divided among the employees. Each employee will have the privilege of taking his share of the bonus in common stock at 90 or in preferred at 124, or a proportion of both.

SOMEBODY ELSE WILL EAT THIS CHRISTMAS TURKEY

BIRD STOLEN FROM COOP AT CHAPMAN HOTEL.

Fellow Who Swiped It Evidently Has
No Regard for Other People's Appetites.

Some people haven't any more thoughts for other people than a rabbit—as he old saying goes.

This statement is a fact and this fact was brought to the limelight yesterday when some scoundrel stole a big, fat Christmas turkey from the Chapman hotel. We say it was stolen yesterday, maybe it was and maybe it wasn't, but yesterday was when it was discovered to be no, there.

The bird was housed in a coop for several days at the rear of the hotel and was fed three squares a day and was fat as the proverbial butter ball. The boarders, ever since the turkey's habitation at the Chapman, had been casting longing eyes at it and the thought of how quick they would eat it up revolved in their minds from day to day. And as the thought was still revolving the starling announcement was made that the turkey had been transferred to another coop, and then the thoughts revolved on the thief.

But the Christmas dinner, of course, was provided at the Chapman—it always is—but if that turkey thief ever shows up in Ada he certainly will be dealt with according to—well, the boarders have offered a reward of ten dollars and six months in jail for his capture.

EATS 40 EGGS AND CRACKERS.

After 6-Minute Demonstration Missouri Consumes Two Suppers.

Moberly Mo. Dec. 21.—Judge Wooden, an auctioneer of Moberly, went to Centralia, Mo. Sunday in response to a call from a friend who had made a wager of $100 that Mr. Wooden could eat forty eggs in ten minutes. The feat was accomplished at noon in a Centraalia hotel, Mr. Wooden eating the forty eggs in six minutes. The parties who made the wager were the only witnesses.

Mr. Wooden ordered his eggs scrambled, and just to demonstrate he could do it he crumbled crackers in the last dozen.

Mr. Wooden doesn't approve of betting in any form, and his friend had a difficult task getting him to smash the egg-eating record. After eating the forty eggs Sunday Mr. Wooden went out to a friend's for supper and ate a meal as two average men would have eaten.

Read What Your Druggist Says
About Oil of Wintergreen
Compound.

Druggist G. M. Ramsey submits the following to the readers of the Evening News.

For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we had found a positive cure for eczema, a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.

We have, therefore arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

What Santa Brought

By W. D. Nesbit

Got the greatest Christmas gift a feller ever seen!
Happened to me, tickled since the day I was seven
When I got my long pants suit an' strutted round the town
Twasn't in a stocking an' it wasn't on a tree,
But it was a dandy gift that Santa brought to me!

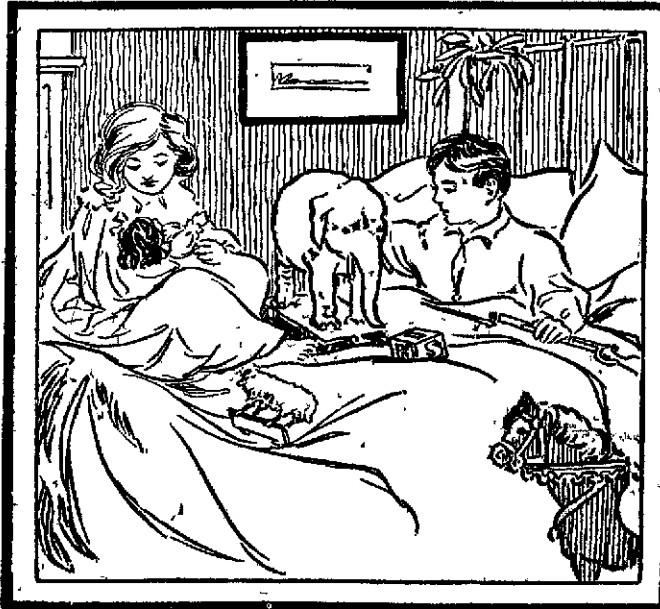

Give you twenty guesses, an' you couldn't guess it right—
But you couldn't guess it if you tried from now to night!
Come on Christmas morning, I was waitin' in the hall—
Couldn't shut my eyes in sleep since Christmas Eve at all.
Lord! I had the fidgets like I see 'em long ago
When I'd watch for Santa in the boy-days, don't you know!

No, it wasn't slippers, nor an auto, nor a tie—
Tisn't any hocky thing that you can go an' buy!
Ain't another like it in the whole endurin' earth
Why? Why, I can't tell you how much money it is worth, Tis the thing I wanted, an' I simply want to say
It's the finest present ever come on Christmas day!

Doctor asked to me an' he says: "I wish you joy!
It's a Christmas baby—your daddy of a boy!"
Now, ain't that a present! Can you beat it in your life?
Isn't this a Christmas Day for me an' boy an' wife?
But the angels left him when they come to sing again
In their joyful chorus, tellin' of good will to men.

Pudgy-wudgy baby, just a roly-poly like
With a way of lookin' right straight at you, lovin' like Say! He held my finger in his little velvet hand
With a grip o' goodness—But how can you understand
If you ain't been through it, you can't know just what I mean—
Got the greatest Christmas gift a feller ever seen!

THE CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS MORNING

DOES HE MEAN IT?

Wu Ting Fang Says He Will Live to Be 200 Years Old.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Being visited by representatives of commercial bodies of Washington for the purpose of saying farewell to him, Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister, promised that he would return to the United States for a visit fifty years hence if he did not sooner make the trip.

Incidentally the minister said he saw no reason why a man should not live to be 200 years old if he met no accident and did not get sick, at the same time inferentially suggesting that he expected to make his span of life cover the 200-year period.

A large delegation of business men of this city called on the minister to express their appreciation of him personally and the hope that he would return as minister of China.

It is said to be the most costly string of pearls in the world and at the recent sale in New York brought the highest price recorded for pearl necklaces.

A Man Ada Children Will Miss This Christmas

Tomorrow Christmas, brings to the mind an individual—character we might say—who has been a citizen of Ada for several years, and who, on this day of other years, has made his hearts of many children of the city glad.

This man is J. W. Boling a man everybody knows. In years past during his residence in Ada on Christmas morn all those children who were not in that position to receive dolls, wagons etc from Santa Claus were before the day was ended, giving thanks to J. W. Boling. This man had the Christmas spirit from a heart which demanded that he make other hearts happy, regardless of his own.

Born of well-to-do and influential parents in the state of Kentucky Mr Boling desired not to remain at home where he had every advantage necessary—with his own intelligence—to become a man of fame and one well supplied with the world's goods but choose to take up his future somewhere else, with the result that he located some few years ago in Ada.

Although receiving a monthly stipend which is considerably in excess of the average salary received in this city this fellow chooses an environment which would not appeal to one in a hundred of persons who had the allowance of this unique character.

A fine workman in his line he prefers to keep a combination work shop-home in a tent on East Main street where, when physically able, he repairs guns bicycles and such like.

This year on account of his physical disability there will be many youngsters who will note the absence of this benefactor and every citizen in the city will miss his presence on the streets or in his tent where he was his own housekeeper and where a welcome was always extended.

And all of these people will offer J. W. Boling their sympathy on Christmas day 1909.

Ohas Chauncey leaves today for Oklahoma City to be gone several days.

A Prize Christmas Egg Eating Story.

The article appearing elsewhere in today's Evening News telling about a Missourian eating forty eggs at one meal suggested to Mr. Watkins, business manager of the Evening News, the time when he witnessed a negro devour seventy-two eggs at one sitting.

This occurred several years ago at Watkins' old home back in Arkansas, at Batesville. The boy related it about as follows:

"One night near Christmas while I and several other loafers were hanging out at the largest store of the town a negro, an old timer of that section known as 'Mitch' dragged his raw-boned frame into the store. There was a tub of eggs in the store and one of the boys asked Mitch how many of them he could eat and Mitch replied, 'Why, boss, I kin eat all you can buy for me.' The audience then told the negro if he would eat a dozen they would buy a dozen for him to take home, and for every other dozen he ate they would present him with a dozen for home consumption.

Mitch went after the hen fruit and before he quit had consumed six dozens. He got his gift—Christmas gift, we infer—and went home. The boys became uneasy about the egg-eater and about eleven o'clock went to see about him, and found him sitting by the fire—smoking his pipe. Later, the negro told the boys he went to bed about midnight, but was unable to sleep so he arose at four o'clock and chopped wood until six. Barring that, there were no ill effects from Mitch's meal of six dozen eggs."

Rich Men's Gifts Are Poor

Illinois Again the Scene of Mine Tragedy—Lamps Carried by Engineer and Assistants the Cause.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 23.—Eight men were killed and the lives of 400 others imperiled by an explosion of gas in Mine A of the Chicago and Carterville Coal company at Herrin, Ill., late today.

Lamps carried by the mine engineer and his assistants caused the disaster, according to a long distance telephone message from the mine officers to the Associated Press in this city. There were three men and a boy in the engineer's party, and all lost their lives.

Prompt action by the management of the miners effected the safe exit of the hundreds of men who were at work below ground. Within five minutes of the first report of the explosion the miners in the immediate vicinity of the accident were started toward the surface and on the return trips of the cages rescuers were lowered into entries Nos. 7 and 8 west, where the catastrophe took place.

The dead
W. T. Pierce, mine engineer,
Eugene Bardet, assistant engineer
Thomas Williams, assistant manager

Unidentified boy about 16
George Snyder, miner
Salvatore Grecco, miner
Pietro Romeo, laborer
Thomas Harber, miner.

James Guiney, superintendent of the mine, and Robert Hues on manager, headed the first relay of rescuers. Despite the black damp which flowed into the chambers adjoining those in which Pierce and his party were killed, these men plunged into the workings.

Three bodies blocked their path. Hasty examination showed that the men were alive and they were rushed to the surface. One of them was A. J. Hueston, a brother of the manager. All are expected to recover.

The valiant efforts of the rescuers to penetrate more deeply into the workings were hampered by increasing banks of after damp. The ventilating apparatus of the mine had not been damaged but it could not cope with the gases and Guiney and Hueston and their helpers were forced to retreat leaving the bodies of Pierce and his companions.

Fire also began to gain headway and it is not expected that the bodies can be recovered before tomorrow. Tonight all efforts are being directed toward fighting the flames. Conditions are such that it is hoped they will be confined to the two entrances affected by the explosion.

News of the disaster spread through Herrin and there was a rush to the shaft house by hysterical women and crying children.
